

INTERCOLLEGIATE BROADCASTING SYSTEM BULLETIN

Special Bulletin

ATTENTION: ALL TECHNICAL PERSONNEL

The Army needs experienced technicians to operate and maintain the wired-radio frequency stations now being installed in Army Camps. If you are drafted, and wish to continue your work in radio -- and add to your radio experience while you are in the Armed Forces -- here's the procedure to follow:

After you are inducted and stationed at an Army Camp, send your name, your Army serial number, and a detailed summary of your experience, to:

Captain Barton A. Stebbins
Special Services
Radio Section
2E574
Pentagon Building, Washington, D.C.

Be sure you include your serial number in your letter, as it is only through your number that you can be reached quickly by mail.

If you are going to be drafted, but have not yet been inducted, and want to do this work in radio, please inform the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System offices, at 507 Fifth Avenue, New York City.
